

UNLV Lecture Series

Here is something that may interest you.

University Forum: I Follow the Forest Flame Bird

When

Oct. 10, 2017,
7pm to 9pm

Campus Location

Marjorie Barrick Museum of Art / Harry Reid Center

Office/Remote Location

Auditorium

The College of Liberal Arts' University Forum lecture series presents I Follow the Flame Bird: A Tropical Birding Adventure a talk by Stephen G. Brown, Barrick Scholar, Professor of English, UNLV.

This presentation will take you on a captivating visual odyssey of Costa Rica's exotic flora and fauna, focusing primarily on its flame birds of the rainforest. The images are enlivened with a colorful anecdotal narrative that highlights this birding adventure. The intent throughout is to provide a cautionary tale as entertaining as it is educational, by heightening the audience's awareness not only of these species life-cycle, but the impacts imperiling their existence.

This event is free and open to the public.

Contact Information

College of Liberal Arts Dean's Office

702-895-3401

LiberalArts@unlv.edu

Event Sponsor

College of Liberal Arts and co-sponsored by the Department of English